Practicing Resurrection

Every year our Senior Bishop Reddick III provides to the preachers in his Episcopal District the “Disciplines,” a book of daily devotions published by The Upper Room. I am appreciative of Bishop Reddick’s gesture as it is a means for me to focus on the Christian year in my personal devotional life in addition to enriching my sermon preparation.

The focus for this week’s devotion in the “Disciplines,” is Practice Resurrection. As I read the devotional for Monday I was led to reflect on how I can be more intentional in living out the Easter story in my personal life. What are some things I can do better to reveal the Risen Christ that I profess from Sunday to Sunday to those I have been called to lead and to others who I encounter on this Christian journey?

The first thing that comes to mind is to truly help persons understand what it means to be “Easter People.” The Easter story moves far beyond Jesus getting up from the grave early on Sunday morning. It compels us to what I like to call faith stretching. Because of Jesus’ sacrifice, because of his unmerited grace that is extended to all who believe, we receive this indescribable gift to practice Resurrection everyday of our lives.

Again, the story does not end with Mary Magdalene discovering the empty tomb, and finally recognizing her teacher in the garden. No this is only the beginning of the Easter story. This is why Mary excited and elated runs to tell the “good news,” to the other disciples. The story continues with Jesus appearing to the disciples who had gathered in fear behind locked doors. Jesus says to them, “Peace be with you.” Upon seeing the Lord, the disciples were overjoyed, and Jesus says to them again, “Peace be with you! As the Father has sent me, I am sending you.”

As I reflect on what it means to Practice Resurrection, these words of Jesus to the disciples provide the impetus for what we are called to do as disciples in today's world. Jesus has blessed us with his peace and sends us into the world to be Easter people. A people who believe in the power of Resurrection, a people who have experienced this indescribable gift of God's amazing grace and are witnesses to unbelievable things even in these 21st Century times.

In practicing Resurrection we are called as individuals and as the community of believers to move beyond our locked doors, to move beyond our fears and doubts to reach out as Jesus did – to stretch our faith – to reach out even beyond our belief to re-present Christ to a world desperately in need of peace. Jesus has sent us. He has empowered us individually and as the Church with the Holy Spirit to practice Resurrection, to be Easter people, to be his witnesses to the ends of the earth.

We are in the season of Eastertide. As we continue the Easter story and move towards Pentecost, I encourage you to pray that the Holy Spirit will move me and all of us here who are part of this body, Morning Chapel CME, to reach out to those who need to know the peace of Christ, to be witnesses to the Resurrection and catalysts of justice and hope to our neighbors and all who need to experience the joy to be found in knowing that Christ Jesus lives today! Peace be with you all!

Men and Women's Day

By: Birdia Fletcher

Morning Chapel celebrated its Men and Women's Day on March 22, 2015. The chairpersons for this year's celebration were Linda Griffen and Yuhsuf

Fletcher. They were very excited to have the opportunity to chair this event. The Men and Women's Day theme was: "Men and Women of God: Gifted for Service." Men and Women's Day is a time to celebrate and honor the men and women that work together in unity and faith for the work in the church and community. It is also a fund raising event for Morning Chapel. Thank to the members for reaching the financial goal that was set for this occasion.

Anthony Dangerfield, program leader for the evening worship service, lead the congregation the Call to Worship and the Men and Women's Day Litany. Prayer was given by Freddie Nolen, III, welcome by Paula Patterson and the occasion by Johnette Calhoun. Musical selections were rendered by Morning Chapel Mass Choir and the Christian Chapel

Temple of Faith Choir. Rev. Dr. Vanessee Burns, Senior Pastor, Christian Chapel Temple of Faith, Dallas, TX was the messenger for the evening worship service.

Special thanks to Dr. Burns and the Christian Chapel Temple of Faith Choir for blessing us with the message and songs of praise. Linda Griffen and Yuhsuf Fletcher thank all participants and members of Morning Chapel for their support in making Men and Women's Day a great day of celebration.

Morning Chapel Welcomes Dr. Carmichael Crutchfield

By: Shabra Watkins

Morning Chapel was honored to have Dr. Carmichael Crutchfield, General Secretary of the Department of Education as our guest for the weekend of February 21-22.

While Dr. Crutchfield was with us, he had the opportunity to observe Morning Chapel and some of its ministries. Morning Chapel's mentoring and rites of passage program, Rock Respect Academy, was in session that Saturday morning. He had the opportunity to meet our youth, our presenters and be a part of our learning experiences with our youth. He was very impressed!

Pastor Ross scheduled with Dr. Crutchfield a workshop on Leadership. The officers of Morning Chapel were in attendance to share his great knowledge. Dr. Crutchfield presented to the Officers "Transformational Leadership" by authors Bernard Bass and Ronald Roggio. He taught in his workshop what the characteristics of being a Transformation Leader are: to be energetic, enthusiastic, passionate, concerned and focused on helping every member on the team or every member of the church. Everyone in attendance was inspired and motivated more to become this type leader.

Sunday, Morning Chapel celebrated Family and Friends Day and Dr. Crutchfield was the messenger for morning worship.

It was great weekend of learning, celebrating family and friends, and remembering our heritage. We are grateful to Dr. Crutchfield for being part of our great weekend and to Pastor Ross for extending the invitation to Dr. Crutchfield. We were all blessed and renewed to continue our legacy of family and love.

Black History Month

By: Birdia Fletcher

Morning Chapel celebrated Black History Month the entire month of February. The youth of the church participated in morning worship each Sunday by treating the church with various months in black history.

They portrayed famous Black American and presented some of their history. The information they gave was very informative and entertaining. If you were not at church each Sunday, you missed a treat. Some of the black history famous (celebrities) that visited Morning Chapel and those who portrayed them are listed below:

Thurgood Marshall	Terence Bell
Aretha Franklin	Egypt Davis
Michelle Obama	Tajah Harris
Dorothy Dandridge	Trinitee Young
WEB DuBois	Eric Pollard
Althea Gipson	Trysta Harris

Harlem Globetrotters were:

Ethan Bell
Xavier Patterson
Evan Bell
Freddie Nolen IV
Anthony Dangerfield
Isaac Tate

Thanks to Angela Bell for preparing the presentations and working with the youth.

Thanks to all the youth who participated in the presentations for Black History Month. Morning Chapel is looking forward to next year. You don't know what famous celebrity just might decide to visit Morning Chapel CME Church!

Easter Weekend Full of Fellowship and Thanksgiving

By: Shabra Watkins

Easter at Morning Chapel.... always a celebration! He is Risen, He is Risen!

Our Saturday was spent in rehearsal preparing for the annual Easter program followed by a picnic barbeque in the park. Great hotdogs with the trimmings and cold drinks for everyone! Thank you Skip Patterson and others for always preparing the grilling!

Resurrection Sunday began with a great breakfast from the Men of Morning Chapel prepared early! We appreciate Mr. Thomas Jefferson for the idea of serving the ladies of our church a nice breakfast.

The menu included eggs, bacon, biscuits with jelly, rice, coffee and juice. The women were treated to a splendid breakfast Easter morning!

It was so awesome to see all the Men that were there preparing breakfast in love and aprons. It was a change of scenes indeed!

The breakfast was followed by an awesome Easter morning program with Easter recitations by our babies and children followed by a great play, "Easter with Madea". The youth did a splendid job reminding us that we should not wait for Easter to celebrate Easter but every day and every Sunday!

A huge thank you to All the Men of Morning who were there helping prepare breakfast and cleaning up afterwards, to all of the parents of our children and youth and the great Directors of our Youth and children for your commitment to this ministry. God bless you for all of your efforts and it was a beautiful resurrection Sunday!

Connectional Youth and Young Adult Week

By: Takiyah Evans

Morning Chapel CME Church along with the other churches in the connection celebrates 'Youth and Young Adult Week', January 25—February 1, 2015. This year's them is 'GO' (Matthew 28:19). As youth and young adults we are encouraged to GO to our families, churches, neighborhoods and communities and tell everyone that 'Jesus loves them'.

Sunday, January 25, 2015 was the kickoff worship celebration. During Sunday worship, the guest speaker was Rev. Iris Reddick. The message was centered on Jesus' commission to discipleship, 'Before You Go Out, Check Yourself' (Matthew 28:16-20). Rev. Reddick delivered an outstanding and heartfelt message for the occasion.

Special thanks to the Young Adult leaders – Mrs. Katrina Jefferson Carter and Ms. Tori Evans, and Youth leader – Mrs. Takiyah Evans. They did a great job with coordinating worship with all the youth and young adults.

Family and Friends Day

By: Shuntel Johnson- Dangerfield

Morning Chapel C.M.E. Church celebrated their Annual Family and Friends Day, Sunday February 22, 2015 at 10:45 a.m. The Guest preacher for the morning was Dr. Carmichael Crutchfield. Dr. Carmichael D. Crutchfield is the General Secretary of Department of Christian Education for the Christian Methodist Episcopal (C.M.E.) Church and Assistant Professor of Christian Education and Youth Ministry at Memphis Theological Seminary.

Dr. Crutchfield kicked Family and Friends Day off Saturday February 21, 2015 with a seminar about “Being a C.M.E” and continued his lesson through his sermon Sunday morning. The worship leader for Family and Friends day was Johnette Calhoun. The members of Morning Chapel were worship participants and the Morning Chapel Mass Choir provided the several music selections. Dr. Crutchfield and the Church was treated to moments in black history presented by the youth of Morning Chapel as part of Black History Month. They portrayed famous Black Americans and presented some of their history- this was followed by a praise dance from the children of Morning Chapel. Dr. Crutchfield then brought us the word God in his sermon.

After an inspiring and educational sermon Morning Chapel Evangelism and Membership Committee rolled their sleeves up and pitched in to put together a wonderful meal which left everyone full and satisfied. Special thanks to Anthony Dangerfield and the Membership and Evangelism Team for Family and Friends Day Celebration. It was a wonderful day of worship and fellowship. Special thanks is also due to all who helped to make this year’s Family and Friends day a success.

CME & Church News

CME Communications

We are entering into a new era: the era of NOW. The NOW era needs a NOW church, one that will come into ministry prepared for multiple generations, people of different backgrounds, in urban spaces and in rural. The CYAM is ready to be in the NOW.

The Connectional Young Adult Ministry of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church is proud to offer a new kind of gathering for young adults and those interested in young adult ministry: CONVERGENCE '15. We believe that to everything there is a season; our time is NOW! As such, we are prepared to offer church resources, fellowship through community service, learning and networking opportunities, and the freedom to worship through the Convergence experience!

CONVERGENCE is a four-site conference (North, South, East, and West) that will gather May 29-30, 2015. The focus of this conference will be helping local churches start and sustain relevant young adult ministries in the post-modern age. Join us as we share our own experiences in ministry and hear from Pastors Olu Brown of Impact Church in Atlanta, Georgia and Alise Barrymore of Emmaus Community in Chicago Heights, IL. Other special guest preachers include Rev. Freeman McKindra II, Rev. Omar Dykes, Rev. Valencia Edner, and Rev. Dr. Joseph Gordon. Early-bird registration will be $50 per person (if registered before May 23).

We encourage you to seek out the site closest to you.

North: Stewart Memorial - 1745 Minocqua Street, Indianapolis, IN

South: Lynch Street - 2175 John R. Lynch St, Jackson, MS

East: Interdenominational Theological Center - 700 M.L.K. Jr Dr. NW, Atlanta, GA

West: Christian Chapel Temple of Faith - 14120 Noel Rd, Dallas, TX

Keeping in the tradition of our gatherings, there will also be opportunities for fellowship through service. We are excited about our National Day of Service (May 30, 2015). Visit www.thecyam.net to register and for additional conference details.

Morning Chapel Host Fort Worth District Ash Wednesday Services

By: Shabra Watkins

Ash Wednesday, a day of fasting, is the first day of Lent in Western Christianity. It occurs 46 days (40 fasting days, if you count the 6 Sundays, which are not days of fast, are excluded) before Easter and can fall as early as the 4th of February or as late as the 10th of March. We celebrated Ash Wednesday this year on February 18, 2015 at Morning Chapel. The service of Ash Wednesday celebrates also the 40 days Christ spent fasting in the desert where he endured temptation by Satan. Some Christians use this time of Lent to sacrifice or give up something they enjoy as a testament of their faith and thanksgiving.

The ceremony of placing blessed ashes on the foreheads of the participants was held and hosted by Morning Chapel. Morning Chapel's Mass Choir and Music Department blessed the service in music.

Rev. Linda Barnett brought a powerful Ash Wednesday sermon to the congregation.

Elder Russell O. Fuller, Rev. Dr. Willa Ross, our Pastor, and other clergy presented the ashes and performed the ceremonies. It was an evening of commemorating and anticipating the resurrection of Jesus with the Fort Worth District members.

Thank you Morning Chapel for hosting our guest and showing our great Christian hospitality once again.

WEATHERING THE STORM: SEVERE WEATHER

If your idea of preparing for severe weather is stashing an umbrella in the trunk, well, this section is for you. Those who have experienced a tornado or a flash flood first-hand will tell you just how serious and devastating severe weather in North Central Texas can be. The good news is that most weather can be predicted. The bad news is that many weather-related deaths still occur each year in North Central Texas despite advance warning. The first step to being prepared is realizing that severe weather can happen at any time—and it can happen to you.

Each year, Americans cope with an average of:

- 10,000 thunderstorms
- 2,500 floods
- 1,000 tornadoes
- 6 deadly hurricanes

In North Central Texas, from 1996 to 2005:

- 9 tornadoes per year
- 207 severe thunderstorm events (large hail, damaging winds) per year
- 53 flash flood events per year

Severe Thunderstorm & Lightning

Thunderstorms can be exciting to watch, especially from the safety of your warm, comfy couch. Besides staying dry, here's another good reason to stay inside (and off the phone)—lightning kills more people each year than tornadoes. Since every thunderstorm produces lightning, you need to be prepared! Flash floods and hail are also dangers associated with thunderstorms.

One one-thousand, two one-thousand, KA-BOOM! By counting the seconds between the flash and the thunder and dividing by five, you can estimate your distance from the strike (in miles).

Thunderstorm Facts

- In North Central Texas, most thunderstorms happen in the afternoon.
- Thunder and lightning can sometimes even come with a snowstorm!
- At any moment in time, over 1,800 thunderstorms are occurring around the world—that's 16 million a year!
- The typical thunderstorm is 15 miles in diameter and lasts an average of 30 minutes.

Severe Thunderstorm and Lightning Safety Tips:

If you can hear thunder, you're close enough to be struck by lightning—find safe shelter immediately.

Move to a sturdy building and stay away from the windows (don't take shelter in a shed, under isolated trees or in a convertible vehicle).

If a sturdy shelter is not available, get inside a hardtop vehicle and keep the windows up.

Get out of boats and away from water

Unplug appliances and avoid using the telephone except in an emergency

Recipe for the Month by: Linda Griffin

Simple Herb-Roasted Chicken

Ingredients

- 1/4 cup chopped fresh herbs, such as parsley, sage, rosemary and/or thyme
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
- 2 teaspoons kosher salt
- 1 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
- 2 4- to 5-pound whole chickens, giblets removed

Preparation

Step 1

Preheat oven to 375°F. Lightly coat a large roasting pan with cooking spray.

Step 2

Mix herbs, garlic, oil, salt and pepper in a small bowl to form a paste. Rub the herb mixture all over the chickens, under the skin and over the breast and thigh meat. Tie the legs together with kitchen string. Place the chickens in the prepared pan, breast-side up, preferably not touching each other.

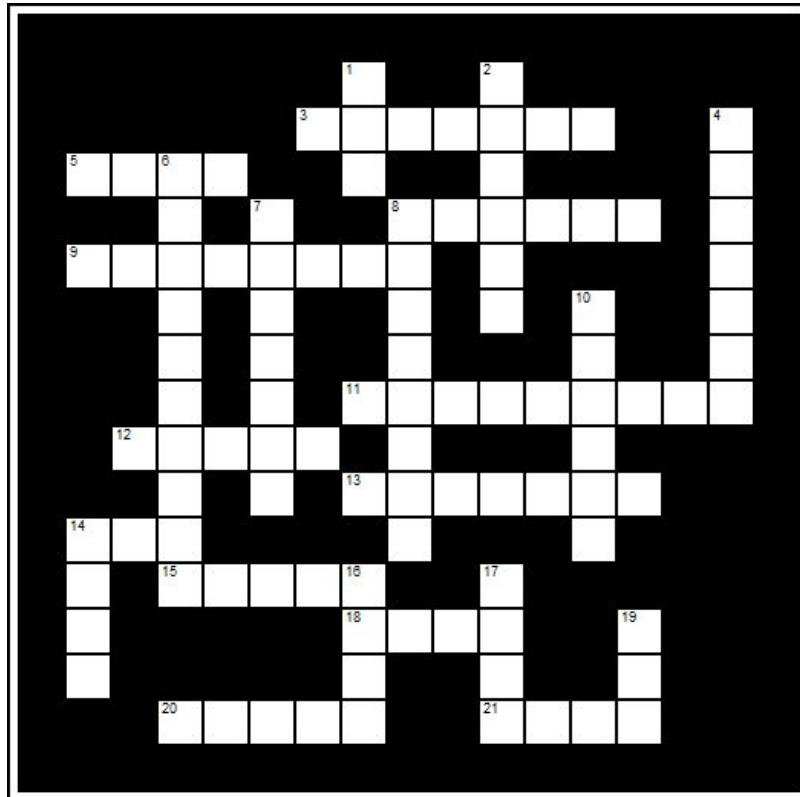

Step 3

Roast the chickens for 45 minutes. Rotate the pan 180 degrees and continue roasting until a thermometer inserted into the thickest part of the thigh, without touching the bone, registers 165°F, 45 minutes to 1 hour more. (Be sure to check the temperature of each chicken. One might be done before the other.) Transfer to a clean cutting board; let rest for 10 minutes before removing the string and carving
